ADJOURNED MEETING OF THE COUN-CIL RELD LAST NIGHT.

Proposition of the Electric-Light Company Adopted as Amended by the Special Committee, &c.

When the City Council adjourned last Friday night it did so to meet again at 7.30 o'clock last night. The president, Mr. Perdue, being absent the body was not called to order until half an hour later, when the following members answered to roll-call: Messra. Welsh, A. C. Jones, Faulconer, Perry, O'Brien, Bradley, and Ely. On motion of Mr. Bradley, Mr. Ely was made president pro tem. OBJECT OF THE MEETING.

Mr. Fly stated that the object of the meeting was to consider the proposition of the Old Dominion Electric Light and Power Company for furnish ing light and power to private cutomers, which had been referred to special committee (consisting of Messrs. Perdue, Weisiger, O'Brien, and Pradley) with instructions to re-port at this meeting.

WHAT IS PROPOSED. Mr. O'Brien, from this special com mittee, said that they had no formal report to make, but would recommend the adoption of the company's proposition as materially changed by them.

The paper as amended reads:
For the purpose of enabling the citizens of Manchester to utilize electricity as an illumination and source of power for public and private advantages, it is Resolved by the Council of the City of Manchester, That the Old Dominion Electric-Light and Power Company have, and are hereby, granted the righ and permission to creet and maintain poles and wires for electric light and power purposes in the city of Manchester, on the following terms:

First. That said poles shall only be erected on such streets and alleys as may be necessary for furnishing electric light or power to subscribers.

Second. That said poles shall be of first-class chestnut or cedar timber, not less than twenty-five feet in length, and shall be kept in good order and neatly Third. That the wires used by said company for the transmission of elec-tricity shall be of the best quality of insulated copper wire, attached to the poles in a secure and workmanlike maner, and in all cases a metallic circuit only shall be used. Fourth. That the city of Manchester will not grant to any person, company, or association permission to erect poles or run wires for electric-light or power corposes for consumers other than the ity of Manchester for five years from the passage of this resolution.

Fifth. That the rates charged by the Old Dominion Electric-Light and Power Company for its lights in the city of Manchester shall not be mor than are at the same time charged in other cities of like size for similar Sixth. It is understood and agrees that if the Old Dominion Electric-Light and Power Company shall fail to com-mence operations or shall be unable to offer to subscribers in the city of Manchester electricity for illumination of power within six months from the date of the passage and approval of this resolution, then and in that case all of the provisions of this act shall terminate and be considered null and void. JOHN O'BRIEN,

J. F. BRADLET. Mr. Walsh said he was heartily in favor of getting electric light, but was as strongly opposed to giving any company exclusive street privileges. After brief discussion the resolutions were adopted by the vote of 6 to 1-Mr.

Sloux City Excited.

SIOUX CITY, IOWA, February 16. over the alarming number of incendiary fires and burglaries which have occurred within a few nights. The town is in fested by desperate criminals, who have been attracted here by the spirit of lawlessness shown by a considerable class of the community. Night before last a business block on the main street was mysteriously burned. At the same time a dozen residences on the "Hill were burglarized. Last night there were dozen cases of housebreaking further down town. Last evening at 8 o'clock the town was alarmed by fire. The livery-stable attached to the lowa House was burned. This house is kept by Frank Klepsch, one of the men inte-rested in the saloon-fight last summer. His place was enjoined and ordered abated. No special comment was excited by this fire, but when a second broke out half an hour later there was much excitement. This was in the large stable attached to the Planter's House, kept by Henry Mielk, anothe man whose place was abated. Mielk and Klepsch both belong to the rebellions German saloonelement. In the second stable when men entered to rescue the stock, he halters of the horses were found to be ent. Both fires were plainly incenliary. A third very dangerous fire broke out suddenly in a large clothing house within three doors of the Hubbard House, in the centre of the city, at 11 o'clock last night. The entire property was destroyed, but the spread of the flames was prevented. Remarks are heard on the streets that this is the work of prohibitionists. Others say

$150,000 [Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

Peressure, Va., February 16.—The tobacco factory on Washington street occupied and operated by David Dun lop was destroyed by fire to-night The factory is one of the largest in the city and works between five and six hundred hands. The fire originated in the south wing of the factory, in the second story just above the sweat-room, and spread with great rapidity. The department was almost powerles in combating the flames, but saved the adjoining building. The factory itself a complete wreck, with all its valuable machinery ruined and the stock of tobacco destroyed.

Mr. Dunlop is one of the heaviest exporters of tobacco in Petersburg and ad large orders on hand to fill. was preparing a big shipment for Fri

All the valuable papers and books were fortunately saved, and a small portion of the stock of tobacco also.

The building belonged to the Tennan estate, and the machinery, fixtures, stock, &c.,, to Mr. Dunlop. The ma-chinery is valued at about $50,000, on which there is an insurance of $35,000. The insurance on the stock, fixtures, and building is about $90,000. The loss by the fire will probably reach $150,000. It is impossible to-night to get accurate details. One of the clerks in the

The fine brick residence of Mrs. D. B. Tennant, on the west of the factory, was saved from damage. A brick residence on the east, occupied by Mr. Lucius Green, was gutted. The stemmery adjoining the factory lot on the east was not damaged. Fortunately the air was quiet, else

A Perambulating Saloon.

An Atlanta (Ga.) special of the 15th says: For several mornings a negro named Thomas Guy has been noticed calling around at houses and private rooms, having upon his arm a large ham-per-basket. This morning an officer stopped him and examined his basket. He found that it was a perambulatin saloon. Within the basket were two large bottles of whiskey, four wine-glasses a bowl of sugar, a bottle of bitters and teaspoons. There was also a the bottom of the basket was a wooder frame with holes, into which the bottles glasses, sugar-bowl, &c., were fitted. The outfit was complete, and the liquor sold was of the best. He disdain selling such horrid mixtures as agaric and his straight rye and cocktails were as fine as could be obtained at any sa loon in New York city. Guy's home was examined, and fifty jugs of whis-key were found therein. Adjourned. THE JERSEY STRIKERS. Clash Likely to Occur at Any

(By telegraph to the Dispatch. SOUTH AMBOY, N. J., February 16. An outbreak may occur here at any time among the strikers. All reports about any of the old hands being reinstated are untrue, and there is no prospect that the majority of the strikers will ever be given work again. This fact has caused bitterness of feeling among the old hands, which is daily growing stronger. To-day a gang of men came down from New York to join the hands at work on the docks. strikers, however, refused to allow them to go to the docks, and finally induced them by threats to return to New York. The strikers say no addition shall be made to the force of men on the dock unless it comes from their ranks. They threaten to drive off all men who come here expecting to get work. A number of new special deputy sheriffs will be sworn in with the strikers seems unavoidable. Results of the Sympathetic Strike

New York, February 16 .- One of the results of the big sympathetic strike in behalf of the coal-handlers is likely to be a general strike of coopers. When the strike was ordered against the handling of non-union coal and grain 150 millers in the employ of the Jones Milling Company, one of the largest establishments in the city, went on a strike. When the strike was declared of the men returned to work in a body, but were informed by Mr. Jones that he would only take them back indi-vidually. All of them refused to go back. The capacity of the mill is from 1,500 to 2,000 barrels daily, and the barrels were procured from the coopershops of M. & E. Connelly. About one hundred and sixty men are em ployed. They are all members of Coop ers Union No. 2, and the committee informed Mr. Connelly that if he did not cease furnishing the Jones Com pany with barrels his men would strike. He declined to make any such promise, and all of his men went out The drivers of delivery-wagons also went out.

> The Waning Strike. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

New York, February 16 .- Captain Bourne, of the Old Dominion Line, was waited upon by a deputation of strikers to-day and asked upon what terms he would take them back. They were told that an answer would be given this afternoon. The balance of the Italians on the Morgan Line pier went out to-day. Many strikers have applied for work. The company has five boats in waiting to be unloaded. In Brookyn several non-union men were as-aulted last night by strikers. Several Italians were also assaulted while returning from work. Several arrests were made.

Conservative Chicago Knights.

CHICAGO, February 16 .- A large num er of Knights of Labor gathered las ight at 104 east Randolph street to participate in the ceremony of reorga-nizing Local Assembly No. 400. It was a revival of the pioneer assembly of the order in the West. It was organized in 1877 by Richard Griffiths, now general worthy foreman of the or-der. The Assembly grew so large eventually that a number of other assemblies were founded in different parts of the city, and as these and others grew No. 400 was gradually leserted by its members for assembli whose headquarters were more conve-niently located. The charter was held here, however. An old member, referring to the reorganization, said: "There are Knights who have become tired of the extremists. The young and radical are crowding out the conservatives from the assemblic They will all find a friendly refuge in old 400. We want to conduct 400 or strictly Knights-of-Labor principles. No Socialism, no politics, no pe quarrels, will enter our Assembly

Master-Workman Quinn Saubbed.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] New York, February 16.-Master Workman Quinn, of District Assembly 49, Knights of Labor, called at the Mallory-Line pier to-day and told Mr. Charles Mallory that he had come to ettle the labor trouble on that pier. Mr. Mallory said : "We have no any trouble with our men, and I know you never worked on this pier, and herefore I have no knowledge of you.' Mr. Mallory walked away, and an officer escorted 49's representative outside the gate. Some of the this dock and the steamers are sailing on time. There is some trouble still to keep freight from accumulating on the Morgan dock, as the Italians have all been disposed of and the strikers have not been taken back. The company has offered the strikers work at 25 cents per hour for day work and 35 for night but the men refused to accept any other rates but 40 and 60, as before the strike. The busy season is just commencing on the piers of deep sea-going vessels, and this leads to the conclusion that in a very short time most of the strikers will be at work.

A FAMINE-BREEDER. The Wonderful Appetite of an In-

A special to the Indianapolis Journa from Martinsville says: Henry Flow-ers, a fourteen-year-old boy of Jefferson township, this county, is one of the most peculiar specimens of humanity that has ever come to light in this sec tion. He came to town last Saturday as is his usual custom, and was taker to the Mansion House of this city by two prominent citizens who bargained with the landlord to furnish the boy a square meal for 55 cents, they wishing to satisfy their curiosity as to his abilities as an eater. They did not have long to wait until their fondest hope of getting the jok upon the landlord was realized. H ate six pieces of light bread, two pieces of corn bread, two large slices of beef roasted with gravy, two large slices of roasted pork, four large potatoes, one dish of beans, one dish of slaw, two dishes of hominy, one dish of parsnips and two pieces of pie. After eating his pie he called for a bowl of oysters and was informed that they were not on the bill of fare for that day. He then went to Dr. Blackstone's to eat again, and his meal there consisted of seven potatoes three slices of bread (each six by eigh inches), two slices of roast beef, two cups of coffee, one dish of tomatoes, one dish of butter-beans, and two pieces of pie. As is usual with him, his hunger was not yet satisfied. He went from Dr. Blackstone's to one of the city bakeries, there he purchased 10 cents' worth of cheese and crackers and ate them, and at last accounts he was in his usual condition.

Alleged Perpetrators of the San Francisco Outrages Captured.

San Francisco, February 16.-The police to-day arrested J. L. Stiles and H. C. Dean, the alleged perpetrators of the recent dynamite outrages on the Sut ter and Geary-Street Cable Line. The former was captured early this morning while on his way to put dynamite in the track. The police had spotted him and were shadowing his house. He emerged therefrom at 4:30, and was closely followed by four detectives. He was ordered to stop, but continued on his way. Ten shots were fired after him, not one of which took effect. He was finally captured by running into the arms of policemen coming from an opposite direction. something over a fence into the garder of a residence. This was recovered and proved to be a dynamite bomb, ready to be placed on the cartrack. A quantity of dynamite and caps were also found on his person, and materials for making bomes were later found in his house. Dean was suspected t police to be implicated in dynamite plots, and immediately after the arrest of Stiles his house was searched. material were found, and Dean's ar-rest followed. Immediate steps toward sub-scriptions will be taken for the line from Memphis through Nashville to the State line, and the pre-sident was requested to confer with the Virginia Western and other connecting lines with a view to future relations. Surveys have been in progress since October of last year, and even engineering parties are now in the field. The line has been run from Memphis to within seventy miles o Nashville, and the engineers will to-day begin the survey of the line from Nash ville west to meet a party coming this way. Mr. Zankoff, the Czar's agent of corruption in the Ealkan pensnula, remarks in his master's London organ that Russia's candidate, whoever he may be, should be unhesitatingly elected Prince of Bulgaria, for Russia is the only real friend of Bulgaria, and is disinterestedly trying to save her from the tyranny and barbarism the other Powers would impose upon her.

Physicians Have Found Out that a contaminating and foreign element is the blood, developed by indigestion, is th cles and ligaments of the joints, causing con-stant and shifting pain, and aggregating as a calcareous, chalky deposit, which produces stiffness and distortion of the joints. No fact which experience has demonstrated in regard to Hoesteter's Stomach Bitters has stronger evidence to support than this—namely, that this medicine of comprehensive uses checks the formidable and atroctous disease, nor is it less positively established that it is preferable to the poisons often used to arrest it, since the medicine contains only salurary ingredients. It is also a signal remedy for malarial fevers, allments, deadlity, and other disorders. See that you get the genuine. fe 17-Th(w)Sa&Tu

Well-Directed but Powerless Efforts to Save a Drowning Sailor. [New York Herald.]
The new French steamer La Champagne, which arrived early yesterday, had a very tempestuous voyage after the first day out from Havre, Saturday the 5th, when, favored by fine weather, the splendid vessel made the fine record of 489 miles in twenty-eight hours. On Sunday strong head winds were en-countered. The blow increased, and by Tuesday it was almost a hurricane. At noon on that day great waves were dashing over the decks, and Captain Traub gave orders for all passengers to go below, as there was danger of being swept overboard. Just aw three sailors working on the port side of the main deck in a very exposed position. A mountainous billow swept toward them. They were ignorant of their danger, and the officer should to warn them. Two of them managed to save themselves, but one—the boatwain's mate-was carried into the sea. The steamer was ploughing the waves at the rate of seventeen knots, but she was under such perfect command that within a very few minutes she was stopped and backed up to the spot where the poor fellow was struggling.

The drowning man—a tall, powerful Freton sailor—was a splendid swimmer. He had taken off his heavy jack-

The struggling man was in plain sight, and was soon swept close to the steamer's side. Life buoys had been thrown over, but he was unable to reach them, and was rapidly growing weak for no man could live many minutes in such a fearful sea. A young quarter-master named Eucher had his messmates fasten a rope under his arms and lower him into the surge. bravely done, but it was unavailing. The lookers-on saw the drowning man throw up his hands and drop his head bacco. The market shows no improvement it this class. New brights are fairly active for deforward on his breast. His comrade, Eucher, seized him as a wave dashed the body past him, but the unconscious man, powerless to aid himself, slipped from the grasp of his rescuer and was swept away in the yeasty waves to be een no more.

The passengers and the ship's company looked on horrified at the awful sight of a fellow-creature dying a terrible death within a few feet of where they stood in security, but utterly powerless to help the struggling man. The ship's officers had acted promptly and everything possible had been subscription was taken up and 2,500f, were raised for the widow and four children of the dead man, who lived in Havre. A handsome present was also made to young Bucher for his brave attempt to rescue his comrade. He could hardly have expected so substantial a valentine, though no one will deny that he well deserved it.
